

Relevant Course:

Relevant Department :

Relevant Semester:

Pre-requisite:

Course Description & Outline :

Background: Routing' is a very generic concept and is concerned with finding path(s) from the source to the destination(s) , Often, one wants to find the `best' path , Routing layer issues : To determine best path, we need to know detailed network structure. Organisation of the module : Addressing in link layers and in the Internet. Link layer `routing' because there is some routing in this layer. Routing algorithms